Air Show, Dedication Set At Local Airport

By DAVE AMEY
Herald City Editor

Airplanes and stunt acts of all sizes and descriptions will fill the air around the Pickaway County Veterans Memorial Airport Sunday afternoon for an old-fashioned air show that should be entertaining and informative at the same time.

Lee Jackson, airport manager of two months, has taken just that length of time to assemble the entertainment for the show, which should run about three hours.

Jackson, who hopes to make the air show an annual event, really hustled to make this one possible. According to the Federal Aviation Administration which is the approving authority, shows just aren't put together and okayed in two months.

But beating a deadline, or anything for that matter, is nothing new for Jackson who has turned Pickaway County Memorial airport into one of the finest fields in Ohio.

About 20 acts, depending on weather conditions, are planned for the show. Featured acts include Harold Jackson of Kings Island fame in his F-3 Waco, Louis Manyak in a Globe Swift, Jim Lovins in a Pitts Special, and John Vastine in a Stearman PT-17.

Other scheduled acts include a hot air balloon, woman sky diver from Athens, an Army helicopter for display, radio controlled aircraft, comedy acts, new planes, and airplane rides.

Centurian Aviation will have a charter Piper Navajo on display, Piper Aircraft Co. of Port Columbus International will display a new twin-engine Sentinel, Beechcraft Aviation will display a new twin-engine Baron, and a four-engine C-123 troop carrier will be on display from Rickenbacker Air Force Base.

Rides will be available for the venturesome. Charge is $5 for adults and $3 for children under 12.

There will also be a display of 13 experimental, home-built aircraft and four Pitts (home-built) planes. These will be lined up along the runway to allow visitors ample chance to see the planes and talk with the pilot-builders.

Included in this group is a Breezy craft, a home-built plane that features an open cockpit and a Volkswagen engine.

One of the premier attractions in the experimental display will be a Cougar Aircraft owned by Art Fout of Chillicothe, who at 69, is one of the oldest pilots in Ohio.

Fout's Cougar craft, built by Roger White of Bartlesville, Okla., in 1961, is powered by a 90 horsepower Continental engine. It has a 20-foot wingspan and a cruising speed of 150 miles an hour.

Friday after a 50-foot section of an earthen dike on the Kankakee River collapsed. The dike had been weakened by recent heavy rains. No one was injured and no livestock was drowned.

In the Northwest, four inches of snow piled onto the Going to the Sun Highway in Glacier National Park in northwest Montana on Friday, closing the scenic route until plows could clear it. Then, because of continuing snow and possible avalanche conditions, park officials ordered all traffic to move across the top of the mountain pass in convoys.

Fair weather favored the Southwest, sections of the Midwest and New England.

Temperatures again dropped into the 30s overnight in northern reaches of the Rockies. The 70s were common from the central Plains to the Middle Atlantic States.

Readings before dawn ranged from 36 at Butte, Mont., to 86 at Needles, Calif.

President To Sign Big Mortgage Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is expected to sign a bill aimed at providing mortgage financing for thousands of moderate-income homebuyers.

The Senate approved the measure by voice vote Friday and sent it to the White House after compromising with the administration on a limit on home buyers' fees.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., who had blocked the bill Thursday night, relented after the Ford administration agreed to a limit of 4 per cent on "points" — fees that are added to the purchase price of homes bought with federal-insured mortgages.

The Senate had passed a 2 per cent limit on points, but the House removed the ceiling at the request of the administration. Proxmire agreed not to hold up the bill further after the Government National Mortgage Association (GNMA) pledged to limit points to 4 per cent.

Carla A. Hills, secretary of housing and urban development, said, "Today's action demonstrates that a working partnership between the executive and legislative branches can produce far more for the American people than the politics of confrontation."

Administration sources said Ford was expected to sign the bill, which was put together after the President vetoed an earlier housing bill.

The bill is designed to provide mortgage financing for thousands of moderate-income homebuyers by providing a $10 billion increase in home mortgage purchase authority for the GNMA.

"This should open up more loans, more jobs, and this is what we're working for," said Proxmire, who is chairman of the Senate Banking Committee.

The current rate on points is 4.5 per cent, of which 2.5 goes to the federal agency insuring the mortgage and 2 per cent to the bank that handles the mortgage. One point is 1 per cent of the value of the mortgage.

GNMA President Daniel Carney agreed to the 4 per cent limit on points until July 1, 1976, thereby lowering the current rate and preventing any increase.

Meanwhile, in other economic developments:

—The U.S. Railway Association recommended that financially-ailing railroads in the Northeast be consolidated into one system called ConRail. The route structure recommended by the association differed little from the plan it proposed in late February.

—The Agriculture Department said the prices farmers received for their raw products during the month ended June 15 increased 2 per cent. It was the third consecutive monthly rise.

—A Treasury Department official said he expects the government to investigate whether foreign auto makers are selling their cars in the United States at prices below their home markets.

—Aluminum Company of America, the nation's largest producer of aluminum, announced a 2.3 per cent price rise over 60 per cent of its shipments.

—The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. announced a 4.9 per cent price increase on Goodyear tires and tubes.

Senate Committee Approves No-Fault Insurance Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Every car driver in the country would be required to have no-fault insurance coverage under a bill approved by a Senate committee.

No-fault would save American drivers as much as $1 billion in premium payments annually, said Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., chairman of the Commerce Committee, which approved the bill Friday.

Under the bill's approach, an auto accident victim would be compensated promptly by his own insurance company for all medical and rehabilitation expenses, regardless of who caused the accident.

As it is, the accident victim often has to go to court and prove "fault" before recovering any money at all.

Accident trial lawyers, staunch opponents of the bill, receive some $1.8 billion in fees each year, more than seriously injured victims receive in court-awarded damages, says Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, chairman of the Commerce subcommittee which drafted the bill.

Other provisions of the bill:

—Payments of up to $15,000 would be provided if injury prevented a person from working.

—An injured housewife would receive funds to hire help to care for the house or for her children.

—Persons disabled for more than 90 days would have the legal right to sue the driver at fault for additional damages.

—Lawsuits for intangible damages such as pain and suffering would be restricted to serious cases.

Several states have implemented different versions of no-fault insurance programs. The Senate bill amounts to a set of minimum standards that would have to be met or exceeded by every state.

There were three dissenting votes in the 18-member committee: Sens. James L. Buckley, Con.-R, N.Y.; Vance Hartke, D-Ind.; and Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C.

The committee action sends the bill to the full Senate, which passed a similar bill last year by a vote of 53 to 42. The House failed to act. Magnuson said the Senate margin should be larger this year and that the outlook for House passage is good.

Car-Bike Accident Claims Youth

Dale Adams, 430 Brown St., died 12:25 a.m. today in Childrens Hospital, Columbus, where he was being treated for injuries suffered in a bicycle-car collision June 20.

The 16-year-old youth apparently pulled his bicycle into the path of a car driven by Norma Courson, 43, 375 Avon Drive, 2:45 p.m. at Pontious Lane and the Lancaster Pike, Circleville Police said.

He was taken to Berger Hospital for initial treatment and transferred to Children's Hospital, where he remained in "poor" condition.

Police issued no citations as a result of the accident.

Guerrillas Free U.S. Dutch Citizens

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania (AP) — Marxist guerrillas in Zaire today released two women, one American and one Dutch, after nearly six weeks of captivity but kept an American man hostage pending further ransom negotiations, U.S. diplomats reported.

U.S. Embassy officials said Carrie Jane Hunter, 21, of Atherton, Calif., and Emilie Van Zinnic Bergmann, 25, of the Netherlands were "in good shape but tired" when they arrived at Kigoma in western Tanzania after a 30-mile boat trip across Lake Tanganyika.

Kenneth Stephen Smith, 22, of Garden Grove, Calif., remained a hostage in Zaire. He was also believed to be in good health although U.S. spokesmen said they had no details about his condition.

Miss Hunter and Miss Bergmann were to be flown 700 miles to Dar Es Salaam today. The American girl's father, Norman Hunter, was with them.

U.S. Ambassador Beverly Carter and Dutch Ambassador Jan Van Den Berg, in a brief statement, expressed relief over the release of the two young women. They said efforts were continuing to obtain the release of Smith.

In California, Stanford University President Richard W. Lyman said he was "enormously relieved, and optimistic that Steven Smith will be released safely."

A previous attempt to bring the students back to Tanzania failed last Tuesday when a Zaire gunboat, apparently on an anti-guerrilla mission, shelled the landing point as a boat carrying U.S. diplomats approached the Zaire lake shore.

Members of the Popular Revolutionary Party kidnaped four students May 19 from a baboon study center near Kigoma. The incident drew international attention to the guerrillas, who have been fighting a little-known war against Zaire President Mobutu Sese Seko for eight years.

The guerrillas reportedly control large areas near the lake. One hostage, Barbara Smuts, 24, of Ann Arbor, Mich., was released to carry ransom demands for $500,000, large amounts of arms and ammunition and the freedom of guerrilla leaders detained in Tanzania.

Tanzania rejected the demands and, along with Zaire, offered little help to American officials attempting to contact and negotiate with the guerrillas.

Officials declined to say whether the release of the two young women meant that ransom was paid. The guerrillas, communicating with the U.S. Embassy through letters written by the hostages, were believed to have scaled down their demands.

The guerrillas had indicated they would shoot the captives if the demands were not met by mid-July.

Storms Slam Plains Areas With Wind, Rain And Hail

By The Associated Press

Thunderstorms boiling out of persistent heat and humidity over the midcontinent hit portions of the Plains with wind, rain and hail again today.

Four golfers were injured by lightning Friday afternoon at the Western Open Golf Tournament west of Chicago as a heavy thunderstorm churned into northeastern Illinois.

A severe-thunderstorm watch remained in effect in the predawn hours in the Dakotas. Winds up to 75 miles an hour whipped Williston, N.D., Friday night and caused minor damage.

Locally heavy rains with wind gusts to 65 m.p.h. and large hail lashed parts of Colorado. Local flooding of low-lying areas closed U.S. 50 east of Lamar late Friday.

Some 7,000 acres of farm land in northwestern Indiana was flooded

Centerfold Pic Brings Lawsuit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A high school teacher who lost his job briefly after posing for a nude centerfold has filed a $2 million damage suit against Playgirl magazine.

Lou Zivkovich, 36, a physical education instructor at Apple Valley High School in San Bernardino County, said he had agreed to be interviewed and photographed for an article on physical culture with the understanding that there were to be no sexual implications.

Zivkovich was suspended by the Apple Valley school board after the article appeared but later won reinstatement.

The suit named as defendants Playgirl, Inc., publisher Douglas Lambert and the author of the article, Michele Brown.

Ohio Solons Pass Bills, Go Home

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio lawmakers have gone home for the July 4 holiday, leaving Gov. James A. Rhodes with several key bills before him, including the state's $10.6 billion budget.

In a flurry of activity Friday, the General Assembly completed action on four other measures, including a separate $731 million transportation budget, and recessed for a 10-day break.

Rhodes began clearing his desk by signing into law a bill making the 55 mile per hour speed limit permanent. The federal government had threatened to cut off highway funds to states not in compliance with the lower speed limit by July 1, when Ohio's temporary law expires.

The governor also signed a bill creating a state regulatory board to license speech pathologists and audiologists.

He has already announced he will veto part of the Democratic-drafted spending plan for the state's upcoming biennium, beginning July 1.

Budget Director Howard Collier, who will disclose the line item vetoes Monday, indicated the governor's action will not cause the state any immediate bill-paying problems.

Rhodes is expected, however, to tighten the purse strings on majority Democrats who moved to broaden legislative authority over state agencies through budget language.

The governor was also reported nearing a veto on a major bill that would create an Ohio Energy Research and Development Agency to coordinate a state energy program under a single agency umbrella.

Rhodes, who has repeatedly called for prompt action on an energy plan, is unhappy with the Democratic proposal because it involves use of the Ohio Development Center, a state agency which has been the target of Republican criticism.

The Senate and House also concurred Friday on two less controversial items.

Ohio State University and the Medical College of Ohio at Toledo could purchase malpractice insurance for their physicians and employees under one bill.

Another piece of legislation would revise state veterinarian laws, including the establishing a category of licensed animal technicians to assist vets. Both bills were sent to Rhodes.

The Senate approved 30-0 a House-passed resolution to clarify the authority of charitable groups to hold bingo games. The proposed constitutional amendment does not require the governor's signature and will go before voters on Nov. 5.

Separate legislation strictly defining charitable gambling bogged down in joint conference committee when the sponsor, Rep. Ronald Weyandt, D-43 Akron, refused to agree to a compromise that would have watered down an absolute ban on slot machines.

4-H...People Helping People

SCIOTO MOD MENDERS

By STEVEN BARTELS
County Extension
Agent, 4-H

A big part of the 4-H club program is to provide members with educational experiences. These may be related to the project they are taking or they may be of a general nature. Club tours are a great way to provide these experiences.

The Scioto Mod Menders 4-H club of Commercial Point took an educational tour of Pennington Bakery at Washington Court House. It was interesting to see how a large bakery operates. We toured Deercreek Dam south of Mt. Sterling. One of the things we found out at Deercreek Dam is that it is a fall-out shelter and can hold 400 people. We also learned how the water is regulated.

Members taking the tour were: Linda Green, LeAnn Eyerman, Pam Spencer, Sheila Friend, Valerie Friend, Anita McCalla, Chris Green, Kelli Hott, Debbie Becker, Sherrie Spencer, Sherrie Guzik, and Kathie Costragan. Advisors were Mrs. Louis Eyerman, Mrs. Larry Green and Debbie Myers.

Specialist Outlines Blackbird Control

By GEORGE HAMRICK

Avitrol has been approved for control of blackbirds in standing field corn. The 1975 Avitrol program is being explained to corn growers across the state by county agents and others involved in the program, says Thomas M. Stockdale, Extension Wildlife Specialist at The Ohio State University.

In addition to standing field corn, the manufacturer has filed a petition with the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to include sweet corn and popcorn on the label. The request is still pending, Stockdale says.

For corn producers to participate in the 1975 Avitrol program, they must first obtain a list of Approved Avitrol Applicators. Lists are available through the Pickaway County Extension Office and Landmark dealers, or one may be obtained through the Branch of Population Management, Room 321, Old Post Office Building, Third and State Streets, Columbus, Ohio 43215, or Branch of Population Management, Building 7192, Plum Brook NASA Station, P.O. Box 2352, Sandusky, Ohio 44870.

Urge Plan To Promote Soybeans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz has proposed to Brazilian officials that they join the United States in forming an international soybean-promotion program.

The 10-million-ton soybean production boost in that South American country, which Butz recently visited, has concerned American soybean producers for months.

The economic threat from those Brazilian fields earlier this year resulted in arguments for inclusion of a soybean loan program in the farm bill, which was vetoed by President Ford.

But, Butz told reporters Thursday, "there's no way to slow them down (in soybean production), nor should we ... If Brazil, I'd be doing the same thing."

So a joint promotion venture, like those for cotton and wheat worldwide, seemed the best approach, he said.

The proposal, which he said he had not yet discussed with U.S. soybean tradesmen, "fell on receptive ears" in Brazil, Butz said.

Brazil's sugar and coffee industries drew many more dollars from this country last year than U.S. farm products generated there.

Capital Improvements Promoted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Hearings are under way in the House Finance Committee on a major bill providing for capital improvements in Ohio in the fiscal biennium beginning July 1.

The projects are possible under previously approved bonding authority for various state agencies. The bonds are to be retired with revenues derived from use of the facilities.

The lion's share is earmarked for higher education with $323.5 million of the bill's $577.8 million total. The Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation would get $221.8 million.

Among major amounts for higher education are $11.6 million for Bowling Green State University, including $7.2

million for a new musical arts building; $13.9 million for the University of Akron, including $6 million for a chemistry building; $14.6 million for Central State University, including $5.9 million for a cultural and performing arts center.

The bill designates $16.5 million for Cleveland State University, including a $10 million science building, and $18 million for the University of Cincinnati, $12.7 million of it for a library.

Otherwise, Kent State University would get $12.6 million for a $6 million physical education building and other improvements; Wright State, $9.3 million, including $6.1 million for a medical sciences building; Miami University, $18.4 million, including $8 million to replace its heating plant and $6 million for a communications building, and Ohio University, $4.1 million, most of it for renovations and remodeling.

Ohio State University is in the bill for $25.8 million, including $11 million for an agricultural structure; Northeast Ohio College of Medicine, $12.7 million for a medical complex; Medical College of Ohio at Toledo, $28 million, $23.5 million of which is earmarked for a teaching hospital; Case Western Reserve University, $750,000 for a family practice unit; University of Toledo, $10.7 million, including $2.5 million to renovate University Hall and $2.2 million for an activities center, and Youngstown State, $11.5 million, including $5.7 million for a classroom and faculty office building.

Among major outlays for mental health are $1 million for the Athens Mental Health Center, $5.7 million for Cambridge State Hospital, $2 million for Cincinnati Geriatric Center, $7.5 million for Cincinnati Mental Health Center, $3.7 million for Cleveland Psychiatric Institute, $989,000 for Columbus State Hospital, $3.3 million for Dayton Mental Health Center, and $2 million for Fairview Mental Health Center.

Hawthornden State Hospital would get $3.7 million, Lima State Hospital $816,000; Longview State Hospital, $6.7 million; Massillon State Hospital, $5.8 million; Tiffin State Hospital, $1.7 million; Toledo Mental Health Center, $3.6 million; Apple Creek State Institute, $3.3 million; Broadview Center, $3.7 million; Columbus State Institute, $7.8 million, and Gallipolis State Institute, $11 million, among many others.

The bill provides $24.5 million for the Department of Natural Resources, including $11 million for a lodge at Deer Creek State Park near Williamsport, in Fayette and Pickaway counties.

Composer Succumbs

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Robert Stolz, composer of "Two Hearts in Three-Quarter Time," 2,000 other songs, 50 operettas, music for 100 films and winner of two Oscars, died in West Berlin today, the Austrian news agency APA reported. He was 94.

Jamaica is 4,400 square miles, roughly the size of Connecticut. With a population of two million, it is approximately 146 miles long and 51 miles at its broadest.

Nixon Talks To Jurors

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Richard M. Nixon testified under oath in California before two members of the Watergate grand jury earlier this week, court papers disclosed today.

The fact that he testified was made public at Nixon's own request.

The questioning took place Monday and Tuesday at the U.S. Coast Guard station in San Clemente, Calif., next door to Nixon's home. The questioning lasted for 11 hours over the two days.

The former President was not under subpoena. His lawyer, Herbert J. Miller, said in a statement that the testimony "was voluntary and responsive to the expressed desires of the office of the special prosecutor."

The Watergate special prosecutor's office declined to identify the jurors who traveled to San Clemente for the testimony or the lawyers who conducted the questioning.

And So It Grows

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent
Agriculture

Slugs have been worse this year than Extension Entomologist Richard L. Miller thought they would be. So, he says, you better check for these pests. You might think something else is chewing the leaves off your young vegetable and flower plants, but if you take a look early in the morning or late evening, you'll see the critters at work.

Slugs are slimy, soft bodied pests that leave a glistening trail of slime where they crawl. They are more noticeable in damp weather.

Mesuro pellets are excellent in the flower garden and ornamental greenhouses. Apply bait to soil around plants but not directly on plant foliage. (Mesuro is not labeled for food crops.) Lightly water the area to be treated before applying the bait. Sprinkle the pellets around; don't pile them up.

Zectran may be used in flower beds and around house plants. Follow directions on the label for mixing the proper amount in water before applying to plants or soil area.

Metaldehyde can be used in greenhouses and in fruits and vegetables. Apply bait to soil surfaces around plants. Do not contaminate edible parts.

Bacterial wilt of cucumbers is caused by the striped cucumber beetle adult. Bacteria are carried by the beetle and introduced in the plant during feeding process.

Bacterial wilt normally infects plants early and control of the beetle should be done as soon as plants start to come up. First sprays should be used by the time 3 leaves are showing. Repeat sprays every 5 to 7 days.

Materials effective against this pest are Sevin, methoxychlor, Thiodan, parathion, malathion, rotenone, and Guthion. Use malathion or parathion only after vining to prevent burning of foliage. Use chemicals according to instructions on labels.

Don't let the Colorado potato beetle eat your potatoes. This pest is moving in and will build to large numbers if not controlled. Use Sevin or Guthion to rid potatoes of this pest. If you used a systemic insecticide at planting, you should get control of early infestations. Second generation beetles may need additional treatment.

A new "durability code" may take some of the guess work out of upholstery fabric selection. Recently, the National Association of Furniture Manufacturers Association agreed on a uniform code for fabric performance. It's intended to help consumers choose upholstery fabrics suitable for particular uses.

Here's how the code works:

Three green h's (hhh) means the fabric is rated HEAVY DUTY - suitable for normal use by an active family with children.

Three blue m's (mmm) means the fabric is rated MEDIUM DUTY - suitable for normal use in adult households.

Three yellow l's (lll) means the fabric is rated LIGHT DUTY - suitable for use in adult households where furniture is selected for aesthetic value rather than performance.

Three red d's (ddd) means the fabric is rated delicate. Fabrics with this code are primarily decorative and need more respect and care than fabrics with other ratings.

Look for this durability information on upholstery swatches, furniture deck labels, and product tags. The standards are voluntary but should start showing up in most furniture showrooms soon.

Kent Hamdorf, our State Child Development Specialist, sent the following subscription information for parents and others involved with young children:

Growing Child 124 W. State Street, W. Lafayette, Indiana 47902. Approximately $1.99 for 8 issues. A monthly newsletter geared to the age of the child. A person doesn't read about children four years old when the child which they are dealing with is one year old. Growing child is the result of day after day work with children. It is a factual report of what happens when children are exposed to various experiences. Growing Child, month after month shows a person what to look for in a child's emotional and mental development - it shows how you can guide him to a sound and balanced growth during his most important first six years of life. I highly recommend it for parents and people involved with children between the ages 0 - 6 years old.

Use reflective tape trim on your children's clothes to make them more visible at night. According to the American Textile Manufacturers' Institute the new reflective product which has been developed "shines" or reflects 185 times brighter than white paint in a car's headlights. The 1/2" wide tape (Scotchlite) comes in yellow or white and can be sewn on like any decorative trim. Use it on play jackets and other clothing for trim and for more safety.

Weak Crime Deterrent

American society has not yet come to grips with the marauders within it who place no value on the lives of others. If the Supreme Court ever produces a definitive decision concerning capital punishment one mechanism of self-defense may be reopened.

More than half the states now have enacted statutes providing for the death penalty in selected cases of murder, under the confusing guidelines provided by the top court in its original abolition of capital punishment as it had been administered previously. The current session of the court has one capital punishment case before it and others seem certain to follow.

In the meantime, crimes involving murders or attempted murders are growing. Also increasing are crimes in which hostages are taken as weapons to barter for escape. The reality of such situations is there is very little difference between premeditated murder and the taking of a hostage with the explicit threat that the criminal is prepared to exchange one life for another.

Under its present rules, society is not prepared to cope with criminals who place so little value on human life. Is it too much to ask that the rules be tightened and enforced to the degree that it becomes common knowledge that anyone considering a crime in which another life will be placed in jeopardy faces no less a penalty for himself?

Turkey's Ultimatum

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — People ... Places

Turkey's ultimatum to Sam to cough up more aid money in 30 days or it will shut down the military bases we maintain there reminds us of a story the late Gen. Pat Hurley, soldier-statesman of another era, liked to tell about a new tough guy who walked into a town 'way down in 'the old Red River Valley.'

Seems, Pat would say, that the new tough guy walked up to the town's favorite old tough guy, and said: "git outta town or I'll shoot you through the head with this here .38."

The old tough guy stopped whittling and said, "Son, I've been shot nine times through the head with 45's. If you shoot me through the head with that there .38 — AND I HEAR ABOUT IT — I'm gonna make things mighty rough for you around here."

Lillian Hellman, the distinguished lady of letters, more or less urged the 1975 graduation class at Barnard to bear arms (not bare arms) to rid the land of chauvinistic pigs who have brought so much woe on the body politic.

At least one Barnard graduate, Irene Fontaine Won of Pittsburgh, Calif., has a different view of how best to obtain equality:

"Helloan is trying to cut off the limb upon which we Barnard girls like to sit! What we really want is getting men out of areas strictly feminine, and getting on with our mental equality."

"Few if any normal women want to go to men's bars, men's clubs, play men's games in any contact sport. But we protest men as attendants in ladies' spas; as our jailers or probation officers; as gynecologists (brrr and horrors); and as obstetricians, and attorneys in many areas."

"We detest people who grovel about calling males with honorary degrees 'Doctor,' while they address women with earned degrees as 'Mrs.' using their given names. I can't be 'Mrs. Irene' anyone."

"I am Joseph Won's cherished wife, and am certainly Mrs. Joseph Won in non-professional areas. Since I am not an unmarried woman, I resent being addressed as 'Ms.' I do not make a big deal about being called 'Doctor.' I earned that Degree."

"We would like to have all sex discussions kept out of mixed classes in school. Get the boys aside and teach them awareness of the unique needs of women to be cherished, and let girls be taught how to create a haven for a family. Let us teach all not to beget children they have no plans to cherish."

My own children were not born for 'the state' but to be part of our clan and our loyal friends and allies — forever."

Expect a swarm of bicyclists to sweep through your town, any day now. Don't shoot. You might hit a fine young college girl.

It's "The Great American Bike Tour," sponsored by J. C. Penney and Celanese (it says here), to promote bicycle safety and the sport of cycling. It is a co-ed effort. It started last Wednesday (June 18) in Central Park, N. Y. C., and will end in San Francisco at some undetermined date later in the century. The distance, by bike, is about 4,000 miles.

It is also the realization of a dream Bugs Baer once had about the 6-Day Bike Race, an unusual feature at Old Madison Square Garden. Bugs suggested a way to improve it: make the oval track a straightaway and get them to hell out of town.

President Ford enjoyed his box lunch at Fort Benning, Ga., while watching two GIs engaged in a hand-to-hand combat demonstration. It was part of the Army's own Bicentennial celebrations.

One GI belted the other with the butt of his rifle and knocked him down. The President flew back to Washington assured that he had seen the ultimate battle of World War IV — World War III having thermonuclearized everybody except the two GIs, and a lead-coated box lunch!

The New York Yankees and Mets are just about leading their respective league divisions, but there's no question about the state's conservation wardens. They are leading the country in killed pet deer.

Substitute Teachers Eligible For Unemployment Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teachers who worked as substitutes during the school year could still be eligible for unemployment insurance benefits although a special law excludes them from collecting jobless benefits during the summer.

An official with the Labor Department's Manpower Administration said Thursday that substitutes without contracts for the fall term could qualify, provided they met general state requirements for jobless benefits. Most substitutes do not work under contract.

The states generally require an individual to have worked 18 to 20 weeks to be eligible for compensation. Fulltime teachers who were laid off from their jobs or who were not under contract for the fall term also would be eligible.

Elementary and high school teachers, administrators and researchers became eligible for jobless benefits last December when Congress extended unemployment assistance program to roughly some 12 million state and local government employees, household workers and farm workers whose jobs had not previously been covered by such laws.

This opened the possibility that teachers could collect jobless benefits between academic terms. However, that loophole was closed June 13 when President Ford signed an appropriations bill containing a provision denying such benefits during the period between school terms if teachers have contracts for both academic terms.

The bill was enacted after several states indicated they could find no provision in their own laws by which they could deny benefits during the summer months.

A spokesman for the National Education Association said teachers are eligible for benefits where school boards have held off signing new contracts for the fall term because of budget problems or where teachers were laid off.

"We've got quite a few people in those categories," an NEA spokesman said. "If they don't have a contract, then they are eligible for benefits."

Ford Slates Cincinnati Appearance

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — President Gerald R. Ford will attend an economic and policy conference with public and private officials of Ohio, Kentucky and Indiana here July 3, a presidential assistant said Thursday.

More than 1,000 persons have been invited to the White House Conference on Domestic and Economic Affairs at the Cincinnati Convention and Exposition Center.

William J. Baroody, Jr., assistant for public liaison, said the President will also participate in a noon dedication of the new Environmental Research Center adjacent to the University of Cincinnati campus the same day.

The President will speak in the evening at a Republican fund-raising dinner in Cleveland, Presidential Press Secretary Ron Nessen announced. Nessen said the Republican National Committee would pay a proportionate share of the cost of the trip to cover the political outing.

Baroody said the economic conference at the Cincinnati Convention and Exposition Center, is one of a series of such White House Conferences sponsored by his office throughout the country.

Invitations have been mailed to government, labor, business, minority officials, community organizations and news media.

He said the conference will be confined to people and problems in Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky.

Hunt Sentence Reduction Nixed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Watergate conspirator E. Howard Hunt Jr. has lost an attempt to get his 2½-to-8-year sentence reduced.

U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica gave no reason Thursday in refusing the petition for reduction of sentence. The petition cited Hunt's cooperation with investigators, the length of sentence and a family situation that his lawyers said "is far more serious than that of the average criminal defendant facing a prolonged period of incarceration."

Hunt, a White House employee during the administration of former President Richard M. Nixon, recruited four of the Watergate burglars who were arrested inside the Democratic party headquarters in 1972.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

It is amazing how many medical myths and old wives' tales persist. One of my readers specifically asked if gout is a rich man's disease. It isn't.

The myth stems from the well-known cartoon of the very obese, rich tycoon, sitting in an overstuffed armchair. His swollen toe is swathed in bandages and elevated on a pillow, while his butler serves and pampers him.

This is a misconception. Gout is not a socially selective disease. It occurs among people of all social and economic levels and in all geographic areas.

Gout is a complex disturbance of the body's utilization and elimination of uric acid. Diets that are rich in purine produce excess uric acid. People with a gouty tendency seem to accumulate uric acid in the blood and in the body tissues. Liver, sweetbreads, kidneys, gravies and anchovies are great offenders.

Many excellent drugs can prevent the formation of uric acid and help in its elimination.

Another myth exists that a beefsteak cures a black eye. There are no medical properties in beefsteak for this. A black eye caused by an injury is best treated by cold, moist applications.

When an injury first occurs, an application of cold slows down the bleeding and prevents swelling. After a few hours, however, warm applications help absorb the blood and make the bright colors disappear more rapidly.

Do we feed a cold and starve a fever? The argument has raged for years. Colds are infections that normally deplete the body of protein and energy. With or without fever, a cold, gripe or flu is benefited by small, frequent, light, nourishing feedings.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH . . . Leftover custard desserts and salads with mayonnaise must be refrigerated quickly. They can be breeding grounds for bacteria, especially in hot weather.

Ford Keeps Plants Open

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. said today it will operate all of its U.S. assembly plants for a second straight week on Monday while reducing indefinite layoffs of hourly workers by 1,050.

Ford said 400 employees will be called back to work at various facilities and another 650 are being dropped from layoff rosters because they either retired, got new jobs or were on furlough too long to be recalled.

The changes leave 17,975 of 172,000 Ford workers off the job. Ford had more than 35,000 workers idled indefinitely during the winter.

Ford also said it will shut its Canton, Ohio, forge on Monday for a two-week paid vacation period. Ford's assembly plants will go down for two-week vacations later next month.

Industry-wide next week, 145,482 of 710,000 hourly auto workers will remain on layoff, down from a peak of more than 270,000 in February.

General Motors Corp. said Thursday it will recall at least 6,600 hourly workers from indefinite layoff in August, when it increases production at four car assembly plants.

County Has Had Three Courthouses

By ANDREA PORTER
Journalism Intern

Since Pickaway County was formed in 1810, Circleville has been the home of three courthouses. 130 years ago, the construction of the original part of the present courthouse was started.

The first structure used for court purposes was the Zeiger house located on the corner of Scioto and W. High Streets. The court and offices were on the second story of the log cabin while the Zeiger family lived on the first floor. The commissioners rented it for $40 per year according to a report in the summer, 1965 issue of the Pickaway Quarterly Magazine.

The familiar sketch of the town's circular form shows the second courthouse in the center. It was the first building erected for the sole use of the court.

The octagonal structure was located on the corner of what is now known as Court and Main Streets. In 1814, when the building was erected, it was at the crossing of East and West Main Streets. It was the hub of town — most of the roads originated at its base.

This brick, eight-sided building was two stories and encased by a brick tower. It was torn down in 1840 which caused a seven-year lag before the third courthouse was completed. During this lag, the courts were held in two local churches.

The construction of the present courthouse was started in September, 1845. The commissioners hired Jacob Strickler to do the brick work. He was paid $5.40 per thousand bricks, "to be counted in the walls and no deductions for openings," according to Aaron VanCleaf's "History of Pickaway County, Ohio." The lumber was purchased from Joseph Kinnear at 80 cents per thousand feet, which included delivery charges.

The building was completed in 1847 at a cost of $45,000. There were six large stone columns in the front, and the tower in the center contained the town clock. The building was 45 feet wide and 105 feet long.

In the 1880's the legislature passed a law that the state would help remodel old courthouses, according to Wallace Higgins, a local historian. Although the building was almost totally remodeled, part of the original structure is still present, he said.

The improvements were done by contractors Doerzbach and Decker of Sandusky, Ohio. Their bid of about $105,000 was accepted by the commissioners.

The north and south wings were added at this time. The front portico was torn down and the tower was changed. Higgins said a different type of stone was used, but the core of the building is based on the old structure.

The original building housed the county jail in the basement. By 1900, it had been condemned by the Grand Jury so during the remodeling, the jail was moved to a new building.

HOUSE USED FOR COURTS—This house, owned by the Zeiger family was used as a courthouse when Pickaway County was formed in 1810. The upstairs was rented by the commissioners for $40 per year.

FIRST "REAL" COURTHOUSE—This building, located in the center of Circleville, was built in 1814. The octagonal shape resembled the same round shape of the town at that time.

PRESENT COURTHOUSE—The original building was remodeled in the 1880's, when the north and south wings were added. Now, the building looks about the same, but the canopy over the front door has been removed.

Atomic Test Held In Nevada

MERCURY, Nev. (AP) — A nuclear device 10 times more powerful than the bomb that leveled Hiroshima in World War II was detonated beneath the Nevada Test Site early Thursday, a federal spokesman said.

The weapons-related test was the second in a week.

Today's explosion yielded a force of between 200 and 1,000 kilotons, said David Miller, spokesman for the Energy Research and Development Administration.

The exact yield could not be released, he said. The Hiroshima bomb had a force of 20 kilotons.

The 5:30 a.m. PDT blast was felt in Las Vegas, some 90 miles to the south. There were no immediate reports of damage there, however.

Answers For Veterans

EDITOR'S NOTE: Each week the Circleville Herald will publish a series of Questions and Answers of interest to veterans. These questions and answers are some of the many presented to James P. Shea, Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer in the basement of the Pickaway County Court House.

(Q.) Are children of deceased veterans eligible for GI Home loans from the VA?

(A.) No. Although widows of servicemen killed during active duty or widows of veterans who died from service-connected disabilities are eligible, children are not.

(Q.) I am a World War II veteran who is seeking to buy a house for investment purposes, rather than as a place of residence. Will I be able to purchase it with a GI loan?

(A.) No. Under VA regulations, you must certify your intent to occupy the property as a home.

(Q.) If a veteran converts his National Service Life Insurance to an endowment-at-the-age 60 policy, are the dividends and proceeds from such policy subject to federal income tax at maturity?

(A.) Veterans' insurance proceeds and dividends are not taxable either to the veteran or to his beneficiaries. This also is true of the proceeds of a veteran's endowment policy paid before his death. Interest on dividends left on deposit with the VA is taxable.

(Q.) I am a World War II veteran who never used his GI home loan entitlement. I hear the VA will still guarantee loans for such veterans. Is that true?

(A.) Yes. In 1970 Congress removed expiration dates from all unused VA expired loan entitlement. Henceforth, veterans retain entitlement until used. Apply to your nearest VA office if you want to use this benefit.

(Q.) I desire to file a claim with the VA for Total Non Service Connected Pension. Does my wife's income from employment count against me?

(A.) Your wife's income from employment will not count against you. However, if she has income from any other source in addition to her income from employment, then that income from other sources will count against you.

Churches Seeking Beer License

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Churches and taverns have long waged the war of the grape, but the battle of the beer has taken a new twist in Milwaukee.

Eight Roman Catholic churches have applied for unlimited beer licenses, arousing the wrath of the Wisconsin Tavernkeepers Association.

The tavernkeepers filed suit in Circuit Court against the city, the churches and Milwaukee Archbishop William Cousins to block the beer licenses.

"We don't mind if the churches want to tap a keg 25 times a year for their bingo games," said Carl Schetter, executive director of the Tavernkeepers Association. "But with these unlimited licenses they can open up every night."

The Miramichi River is one of the greatest salmon streams in the world and is the second largest waterway in New Brunswick, Canada.

Brown Supports WPAFB Outlays

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Clarence J. Brown, R-Ohio, has urged that an appropriation of $5.36 million for a logistics management facility be added to the fiscal 1976 military construction program at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton, Ohio.

Brown of Springfield, Ohio, testified Thursday before the military construction subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee.

Brown said the proposal for a new headquarters facility to replace a deteriorated structure was authorized by Congress in December 1974, but was denied appropriation in the fiscal 1975 program.

Ferguson Seeks Return Of Money

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson is seeking more than $15,000 today against 12 former state employees in connection with no-show job scandal.

Ten of the 12 pleaded guilty May 27 to misdemeanor theft charges after a Franklin County grand jury investigation into state payroll irregularities during the recount of the gubernatorial election.

Ferguson said he had also asked the attorney general for a formal opinion regarding the pay status of five former state employees who did transitional work for Lt. Gov. Richard F. Celeste after his election but before he took office.

"Examination of payrolls of the departments involved revealed attendance records for (10) employees were not adequate to reflect the particular hours of the day an employee worked," Ferguson said.

The all-lace picture hat with satin ribbon forming bow at the back was trimmed with seed pearls. The bride carried a bouquet of white gardenias and baby's breath with satin streamers.

Surgeon Asks Jobless Pay

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Dr. P. S. Test walked into the local unemployment office and asked for compensation Wednesday after his malpractice insurance expired.

Test, a surgeon here for 20 years, said, "Filing for unemployment compensation was my wife's idea. It is a protest against the unavailability of adequate malpractice insurance, the excessive cost of what little insurance is available, and the lack of legislative action to remedy the situation."

"I have paid into the state unemployment fund for years because my practice is incorporated," Test added.

Beman Pound, director of the state unemployment compensation division, was uncertain without a full investigation of Test whether he would be eligible for compensation. However, he did not rule out Test's claim.

4 Men Saved By Coast Guard After 18 Hours In Atlantic

MIAMI (AP) — "We talked about anything ... everything but 'Jaws,'" says one of four men who spent 18 hours floating and swimming in the ocean after their sailboat capsized.

Steve Woodbrey, 22, was fishing with three other Fort Lauderdale, Fla., men Thursday when their 25-foot sloop ran into a sudden storm about five miles from shore. He said they hung on to the capsized vessel's hull for 90 minutes, but were passed by at least four ships which refused to stop.

"We screamed for help and waved life jackets," Woodbrey recalled Friday. But he said the only reaction came when sailors on a freighter waved back.

"We decided to swim to shore for help because we couldn't get help otherwise," said Arnold Walton, 19, another member of the quartet.

They put on their life preservers, and tried to make it to shore, but the current kept pushing them back.

"We got within a half mile of shore," Walton said. "We swam for 12 hours and gave it everything we had, but we couldn't do it."

"I said 'Hey, we're close. We're close,'" said Gary Turpen, 22, another member of the ill-fated fishing trip. "I kept saying, 'Aren't we there yet?'"

Dave McConnell, the fourth member of the group, said he was concerned about sharks, the subject of a recently released movie 'Jaws' about shark attacks on swimmers in Long Island, N.Y., waters.

"I kept thinking, this is the Devil's (Bermuda) Triangle," McConnell said. "We're shark bait."

They ended up sleeping in the flimsy life preservers. Walton said he was awakened in the morning by a leaping fish. But he said they never saw any sharks.

Finally, the Coast Guard, which had been called by Woodbrey's worried wife, spotted the abandoned boat off Boca Raton. A Coast Guard plane found the men about 10 miles south, and they were picked up by a helicopter.

"Thanks to you I get to see my 23rd birthday," Woodbrey told the helicopter pilot. "I was beginning to wonder."

Several areas across the state reported that fog brought the visibility less than one mile at sunrise. Early morning temperatures were in the mid 60s with Cincinnati and Columbus near 70 degrees.

All week Ohio has been under the influence of air from the Gulf of Mexico with afternoon and evening thundershowers daily throughout the state. Drier and more stable conditions are expected in the Buckeye State next week.

Sunny skies are expected today and Sunday with temperatures in the 80s.

Frog Foul Reported

POMEROY, Ohio (AP)—All is fair in love and war—but apparently not in a frog-jumping contest.

The winner of last week's Ohio Frog Derby faces charges that he committed a foul on his way to winning the $200 first prize.

The injured party, George Hobspletter, jockey of bullfrog Whirlaway, filed a formal protest with the Ohio Society for the Promotion of Bullfrogs, Inc. contending his entry was fouled.

Hobspletter lodged the complaint Friday with Grand Croaker James Roush, who will convene a board of inquiry next week.

The race, in which frogs were prodded around a track with padded yardsticks, was won by Bimpine.

According to a spokesman for the society, the inquiry board, which has final jurisdiction in the case, will review films of the race and take evidence from spectators and participants.

Heart Valve Of Pig Tissue Gives Woman Normal Life

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A heart valve made primarily of pig tissue will give Cheryl Petit a chance to live a normal life, doctors say.

The prognosis was not as bright three months ago, after the 19-year-old Fort Lauderdale, Fla., woman gave birth to her first child. Without the operation, she could have died, doctors said.

"After a period of convalescence, she will be capable of living a physically full life," Dr. Jack Greenberg, chief surgeon at Mount Sinai Hospital, said Friday after implanting the pig tissue.

Mrs. Petit now has a valve that doctors call a porcine heterograft — a replacement for her own defective heart valve which had blocked the free flow of blood. It's a circular valve about one inch in diameter.

"The valve is not a living tissue," Greenberg said. "It functions but is not living, so there can be no active rejection."

Doctors say Mrs. Petit may have suffered from rheumatic fever during her pregnancy. After her son's birth, she experienced breathing problems and later suffered from extreme exhaustion.

After diagnosing her heart ailment, Greenberg opted for the pig valve — from a supply of pig tissue kept at the hospital. The tissue is preserved in a substance called glutaraldehyde.

"The pig was selected because the size of the aortic valve is similar," Greenberg said. "Also, the tissue is durable. Its strength and shape is most similar to that of a human."

He said synthetic parts implanted in humans are not new, having begun in 1960s. Animal tissue valves have been used for about seven years but remain a little publicized practice.

"We've had about 200 pig valve operations here since they began, and have enjoyed a 98 per cent success rate. Not much is said about the operation — I don't think some people want to know," a hospital spokesman said.

Uganda Grabs British 'Spies'

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Uganda said today it has captured and placed in military custody two British spies, and demanded that Britain provide full details of spies allegedly being sent into the country.

"A number of British spies are entering Uganda through customs, wearing disguise," Uganda radio said, quoting a military spokesman.

The broadcast said Uganda will not disclose the names of the captured spies "until the British government gives full details."

It said is "up to the British government to give Uganda names and addresses of its spies and not for the Uganda government to inform them."

British officials said Friday they were checking Ugandan reports that an unspecified number of British citizens had been arrested and faced possible military death sentences. They said they knew of no Britons held except Denis Hills, a teacher sentenced to death for treason because he wrote in an unpublished manuscript that President Idi Amin was a "village tyrant who has imposed on Ugandans all the habits of submission and servility."

Ohio Village, German Village Offer A Unique Look At The Past

Over a hundred years ago, "Franklinton," situated on the Scioto River, was only a small village of dirt roads, modest houses and specialized shops run by craftsmen who were proud of their trade. Today, a thriving metropolis of towering skyscrapers, modern paved highways and large department stores, Columbus still retains a sense of the past with several popular attractions that promise to transport you and your family back to the early days of Ohio.

Begin your historic adventure by heading north to Interstate 71 at the 17th Ave. exit. There, just beyond the contemporary Historical Center, lies Ohio Village, a reconstruction of a typical county seat between the years 1800 and 1860.

The moment you step through the gatehouse, you're confronted with the surroundings of Ohio in its early days of statehood on the eve of the Civil War. Dusty roads, narrow boardwalks and kerosene lamps remind you of the uncomfortable, but authentic, living conditions of that time.

Unlike other historic restorations of showplace but lifeless buildings, the village bustles with the activity of our forefathers participated in a century ago. Take a moment, sit in the market place and watch the ever-changing scenes of the village.

The weaving shop offers shawls and tablecloths for sale as you watch the village weaver skillfully dart the shuttle between webs of colorful yarn, producing the beautiful woven material. The harness and saddle shop, down the street from the weaver's shop, demonstrate the old method of sewing leather by hand. The cabinetmaker furnishes many of the pieces use in the shops of the village. A few steps further will take you to the tin shop, where you can see lamps and cups being formed from sheets of tin by skilled craftsmen. The clanging sound of iron against iron, will bring you to the blacksmith shop, where you'll see 18th century hardware being made by the talented "smithy." The smell of printer's ink greets the visitor wanting to see an authentic 19th century hand-press print posters of that period. And the museum offers bizarre items from around the world, including the famous Egyptian mummy, long a popular attraction at the Ohio State Museum.

Toward lunchtime, head to the west end of the square, for the American House Hotel. This 19th century restaurant offers tempting dishes of the period, featuring such unique dishes as Vinegar pie and real old-fashioned beef stew with homemade bread, which is guaranteed to add another dimension to your appreciation of historic home-style cooking. But make lunch early ... there's still more to see.

For some unusual shopping bargains, visit the general merchandise store or the glass and china shop, where customized interpreters will not only sell you reproductions of items you like, but will also tell you a little of its background. Shop in the town hall and see if a concert, lecture or play is in progress. And as you leave, don't miss the doctor's home and office, where you can get a glimpse of how people were healed and lived during this time period.

For a special treat at the Village, plan to visit this July 4th. You'll be able to relive an Independence Day celebration of more than a century ago. Special events, games and picnic lunches on the town square will fill the day. The 9th-13th Virginia Regiment will muster on the village green and recreate many of the military activities of the period. Finally, at mid-evening, fireworks will illuminate the darkening sky to complete a perfect day in Ohio's yesterday.

The Ohio Village is open to the public Wednesday through Sunday 10-6. Admission is $1.50 for adults and 50 cents for unaccompanied children under 13.

Then, for another look at early Ohio, return to I-71 and head south to exit 38. Here, tucked away amid the noise and bustle of downtown lies an old and colorful community that is a curious mixture of the old and new. Founded and settled by German immigrants in the mid-1800's, German Village offers an intriguing array of boutiques and shops housed in historic, restored buildings. A contemporary supermarket was once the village blacksmith, and a collection of shops under one roof, used to be the garage for streetcars. Frankfort and Mohawk, with their typical narrow cobbled roadways and sturdy brick homes, bordered by well-tended gardens are the streets for sightseers.

If you're hungry, you can select from a number of local restaurants, each offering a wide menu of regional food and good German cooking. Or, if you're just looking for a place to relax and savor the European atmosphere, stroll to Shuller park, where once, all the townspeople meet to celebrate their native festivals.

And speaking of festivals, don't miss the many special events offered at German Village throughout the year. In June, there's the annual Haus and Garten tour, where representative houses of the area are open to the public. Or tour the town by candlelight in early fall to see the gardens in all their blazing color. Each is a festive occasion complete with German music and plenty of food. It's an instant tour of Europe right next door.

For inexpensive lodging, consider Walnut Bluff, off of 270, on Schott Road. A minimal fee will give you beautifully shaded camping sites in addition to fishing and boating privileges, with plenty of hiking and biking trails to appreciate Columbus' natural beauty.

The parade will lead around the village square to a speakers platform for a brief patriotic ceremony.

Golfers Buzzed By Lightning

OAK BROOK, Ill. (AP) — Nobody had a chance to invoke the lightning rule in the $200,000 Western Open Golf Tournament Friday, a scary, painful experience for two-time U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino and Jerry Heard along with several other players buzzed by electrical bolts.

Trevino suffered back burns and Heard leg burns and had to be removed from the thunderstorm-struck Butler National course to a hospital as the tourney's second round was cancelled with half the field home.

Bobby Nichols, Tony Jacklin and Jim Ahern also got lightning jolts. Nichols went to the hospital complaining of a headache after a bolt struck nearby. Jacklin had a club knocked 15 feet away just as he began a swing. Ahern was leaning on his putter when a charge knocked it out of his hands.

Most seriously hurt were Trevino and Heard, huddled under an umbrella which proved a lightning rod. Both were held in a nearby hospital for overnight observation.

Arnold Palmer, who went into today's rescheduled second round still trailing pacesetter Dave Graham by three strokes, even got a scare in the middle of the 14th fairway. "A bolt struck nearby and I just dropped my club," said Palmer who had lost two strokes to par when play was cancelled.

Graham, who shot a course record 65, six-under-par, in Thursday's opening round, was just teeing off on No. 10 and was five-under-par when play was called.

"I heard the siren blow and I made a beeline for the clubhouse," said the Australian pro.

Half the 156-player field had finished when the sudden thunderstorm hit, but all secondround scores were erased. The final two rounds will be played Sunday.

Trevino, Heard and Mike Fetchick, playing in the same threesome, had just played to the 13th green when play was halted at 4:04 p.m. CDT. Fetchick elected to hasten to the clubhouse, but Trevino and Heard sought a low spot near the green and got under an umbrella held by Heard between his legs.

The players generally said the storm hit too quickly for many to invoke the lightning rule and get off the course. Tom Watson did that in last week's storm-pelted U.S. Open at nearby Medinah Country Club at which time Trevino said, "lightning will never strike me. God is on my side."

Bobby Unser To Practice 'Economy'

LONG POND, Pa. (AP) — Bobby Unser, like motorists everywhere, will be trying to get a few extra miles out of a tank of fuel when he goes out for a Sunday drive.

But when Unser goes driving Sunday, a $100,000 winner's check will be at stake in the 500-mile race at Pocono International Raceway—where he lost last year for want of another gallon or two of fuel.

"I was leading late in the race, but I had to slow down to finish, or run out of fuel," Unser said.

"I'd rather stay behind the first 400 miles, then lead for the last 100 than give up the lead because I was low on fuel late in the race," said Gordon Johncock, who leads the field Sunday. "That would be an awfully tough way to lose."

"It was," confirmed Unser. "That was one of the hardest things I've ever had to do. You never want to go racing unless you can win."

Unser finished fifth last year, but his position was good enough to give him the 1974 Triple Crown title for the best cumulative finishes in the 500-mile races Long Pond, at Ontario, Calif., and at Indianapolis. Johnny Rutherford won the Long Pond race and at Indianapolis, but still finished second in the Triple Crown race. Unser leads again this year.

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SUNDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Watch trends and join forces with those who have a stake in the common welfare. Your priceless energy can be of great help.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): You may have to do some extra maneuvering, revise some plans. Don't go too far out on a limb, however. Stability needed.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Mixed influences. Organize talents and know-how to promote your interests more efficiently. Translate good ideas into working processes. Romance favored.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Be alert. A thoughtless move could have more serious repercussions than you could possibly imagine. Emphasize your steadiness, practicality.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Shun controversies which merely take up time and dissipate energies. Change your mode of approach if the occasion demands.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Some changing conditions, new trends indicated. You won't like them all immediately, but many are better than appear at a glance. Study everything carefully.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): You have better planetary influences than most, but you could still miss out on opportunity if careless or indifferent. Don't let this happen!

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): A chance now to see things in quiet perspective. Stand back to review activities — but only those concerned with the present. Forget the past.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): If it will help to clear up a situation in sensible fashion, don't turn down any feasible suggestion. But discriminate between the astute and the rash.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Romance is in your picture now. You'll get unmistakable hints that someone you admire considers you most attractive. Follow up!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Fear of change may beset you at times, but success often calls for finding one's way through mazes, odd nooks, with incomprehensible persons. You may have to do this now. PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): What pleases one may not please another. You may have to juggle a bit to avoid undesirable contention and hassling. But, in your quiet way, you can manage it.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with great versatility, a high order of intelligence and a delightful personality. Also blessed with an almost limitless compassion for others, you would make an outstanding physician, nurse or sociologist. In fact, no matter what occupation you eventually choose, its "service" angle will always be important to you, for you were born to give. You have a great appreciation for heritage and tradition; would make an excellent historian or archeologist; could also teach in these fields. Other areas suited to your talents: engineering, the law, science, painting. Traits to curb: jealousy and obstinacy. Birthdate of: Peter Paul Rubens, renowned Flemish painter; G. W. Goethals, builder of the Panama Canal.

Connie Chillemi Wins Women's Junior Golf

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—In a duel of last year's semi-finalists, Connie Chillemi defeated Cathy Reynolds 6 and 4 Friday to win the Women's Western Junior Invitational Championship.

Miss Chillemi, 17, of Naples, Fla., held a four-hole advantage after the first nine holes and captured the title by winning the 13th and 14th holes.

Miss Reynolds, who will be the No. 1 player for the U.S. entry in the International Cup matches at Pebble Beach, Calif., next week, lost the second, third and fifth holes to face an early uphill struggle.

Former Top Stars To Play In Cincy

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Homerun sluggers Willie Mays and Ralph Kiner and World Series heroes Yogi Berra and Bill Mazeroski have accepted invitations to play in the Cincinnati Reds oldtimers game July 13.

Another major league great who will be attending is base-stealing great Maury Wills of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Ali And Bugner Hold Weigh-In

KUALA LUMPUR (AP)—British challenger Joe Bugner Saturday weighed in at 230, five pounds heavier than world heavyweight champion Muhammad Ali for their championship fight.

The ceremony in the ring at Merdeka Stadium where they will meet Tuesday was marked by Malay tradition and Ali's mouth.

Bugner entered first in blue trunks with darker blue trim. He said little, even when taunted by Ali.

Bar Fall Brings Suit

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — A Lebanon, Ohio man filed a $55,538 suit in Warren County Common Pleas Court against a Foster, Ohio bar keeper for selling him drinks when he was intoxicated.

The suit alleged the barman was negligent in so doing because the man fell off a bar stool and suffered head injuries.

The suit, filed by Walter G. Mohrfield, 69, alleged that Dennis Plummer, owner and operator of the Miami Inn, was negligent in serving Mohrfield drinks Dec. 22, 1974 because Mohrfield was intoxicated and was known to be in that condition much of the time.

Mohrfield asked $50,000 punitive damages, $538 for medical bills, $5,000 for Mohrfield's wife Esther for loss of her husband's services and $80 in lost wages.

Grain Prices Still Dropping

WASHINGTON (AP) — Livestock and vegetable farmers continue to receive better prices for their products but grain prices are still dropping, the Crop Reporting Board confirms.

The meat animal index in Friday's monthly farm price report was up 4 per cent for the month ending June 15, largely on the strength of $38.50 per 100 pounds for all beef cattle and $47.30 per hundredweight hogs.

But the food-grains index was off a sharp 13 per cent with wheat at $2.92 a bushel, 55 cents less than in mid-May and 65 cents less than a year before. Rye was the same at $2.19 a bushel as in June 1974, and rice, unchanged from May at $10.40 per 100 pounds, was $7.10 below a year earlier.

Jewel Thieves Net Nearly $4 Million

PARIS (AP) — In one of the greatest jewel thefts of all time, four gunmen posing as delivery boys arrived at the Paris apartment of an American millionaire with a basket of gladiolas and left with jewelry which police estimated to be worth $4 million.

Police gave the following account: At 10 a.m. Friday, the gunmen turned up at the service entrance to the plush Avenue Foch apartment of Rita Sherman-Steinberg, 54, of New York, whom friends identified as the former wife of Charles Lachman, cofounder of the Revlon cosmetics empire.

The four rang the service entrance bell, identified themselves as delivery boys, and were allowed to enter the building, carrying their basket of flowers to Mrs. Sherman-Steinberg's apartment.

There they burst in on the maid and tied her up. They found Mrs. Sherman-Steinberg asleep and bound her and her friend, Shirley Preissman, also of New York.

After shutting the three women in a small room, the robbers located the

Mrs. Gandhi Shuffles Cabinet

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Indira Gandhi today made her first cabinet change since proclaiming a national emergency, naming V.C. Shukla as information minister, the post that implements new censorship regulations.

Shukla, former head of the planning commission, switched places with Inder Kumar Gujral, who had been chief of the Information Ministry for three years.

No explanation was given for the switch. It was not known if the change would lead to any shifts in policy.

All news dispatches from India have been based on official government briefings and other information cleared by censors since Thursday when censorship was imposed and the emergency was declared.

Six of New Delhi's seven English language newspapers resumed publication after being shut down for two days.

The Motherland, organ of the right-wing Jana Sangh party, remained closed.

Two newspapers, the Hindustan Times, and the Indian Express, had white spaces where their editorials normally appeared as a silent protest of the censorship regulations.

Boy, Girl Sentenced To Youth Commission

Two youths face sentences at the Ohio Youth Commission after hearings last week in Pickaway County Juvenile Court. Judge Guy G. Cline sentenced two 14-year-olds to the temporary care of the Commission and suspended a third sentence during the week.

A 14-year-old Circleville girl was found by the court to be incorrigible and was placed with the Commission. The other youth, a 14-year-old Circleville boy, was found guilty of disorderly conduct.

Petit theft charges against a 15-year-old Circleville girl brought a suspended sentence to the Commission. Judge Cline suspended the severe penalty and placed the girl on probation for two years.

In other action during the week, the court placed two Route 8, Chillicothe girls on indefinite probation for petit theft.

A charge of excessive absence from school brought a three-year probation term to a 13-year-old Circleville girl.

Gary Wilson, Route 2, Orient, appeared before the juvenile judge on a charge of child abuse. Judge Cline suspended a 30-day sentence to the Pickaway County Jail and placed Wilson on probation for one year.

One charge of contributing to the unruliness and one of contributing to the delinquency of minors were levied against Franklin C. Scott, Route 1, Orient. The court suspended $100 of a $200 fine and also suspended a 30-day jail sentence. Scott was then placed on probation for one year.

Two Route 1, Williamsport children, a three-year-old girl and a year-old boy, were found by the court to be neglected and were placed in the temporary care of the Pickaway County Children's Services. Another neglected infant was placed in the temporary care of her grandmother.

Monte K. Woods, 17, Route 1, Kingston, was charged in traffic court for driving while under the influence of alcohol. He was fined $50 but the court suspended $25 of the fine and suspended Woods' license for six months. A modifying order signed by Judge Cline allows the boy's license to be used during the suspension for driving to work and traffic school.

In final action during the week, the court released a 17-year-old Route 4 girl from probation.
